“ You were the best Poppy anyone could ever have. I will never forget running down stairs every time i got to your house to visit you in your workshop and give you a big kiss on the cheek. or when we painted our bird houses out of an old squash. or when you took me driving for the first time and yelled at me to go on the highway. “i'm not ready for the highway poppy!” “yes you are! just take the turn!” i took the turn onto 295 and had officially drove on the highway for my fist time. after that i was no longer scared. so thank you for that haha. there are so many memories i could write about but these are just some highlights. i love you forever poppy. love always, squigmans ❤️

You had a great sense of humor...

May you Rest In Peace big brother!
