Those who were lucky enough to know Bruce will always remember him as a ballbreaker and a man of integrity who didn't beat around the bush. You always knew where you stood with him. In his youth he was active in many sports including, but, not limited to, baseball, wrestling, hockey, diving, golf and basketball. When he was older he was an avid golfer and a Little League and Senior League coach for nine years for Silver lake Olneyville. He also volunteered as league treasurer. He enjoyed watching the Red Sox and Patriots while sipping on a cold beer, but always expected the worst. He was fortunate enough to meet all his grandchildren and loved them very much.
