“ My sister, my friend, the epitome of what a good woman should be. She was exactly one year older than me, but was always a second mother. When we were teenagers, she would time how long I was taking to say goodnight at the door with my date, and, if I took too long, would flick the porch light until I came inside.. When she was 12, we moved to Johnston and she met her soulmate - Paul Ullucci - God made them for each other, a true match made in Heaven. They shared a love all these years and created 3 beautiful children - Paul, Beth, and Daniel who blessed them with grandchildren that they adored.. I remember watching Dianne play "My Little Pony" with Ana and loving how happy they both were. Her family was the most important thing in her life and she loved being its warrior. These last few years have been hard for her physically, but she never complained and cherished the care that Paul gave her so willingly. Now she is at peace and no longer in pain.. What a woman and what a great life she lived Till we meet again, my dear sister.

“ My beautiful cousin and Godmother. Diane and I were devoted to our Grandma Martina Blanchard Kean. On Wednesday October 4th myself Diane and Paul had a magical day. She laughed more that day in years. She was a gracious, humble lady. Her dedication to Paul and her family was amazing. Her faith in God was inspiring.
