

Karen Theresa Casey

November 11, 2021

Karen Theresa Casey, 67, of Johnston RI passed away, peacefully in her home surrounded by her children.

Karen was born on the seventeenth of May, in 1954 at the Lying-Inn Hospital, in Providence Rhode Island, to parents Mildred Agnes Cota and James Joseph Casey.

She attended St Teresa's School and later graduated from Mount Pleasant High School, both in Providence. For the last seventeen years she worked as a pharmacy technician at Dominion Diagnostics in North Kingstown RI.

Karen had a passion for the ocean, for the stars, for music, for singing together with her closest friends and most of all; for her three children.

Over the last few years; the greatest joy in her life came from fully embracing being a grandmother.

She found inspiration and solace in the words of the likes of John Lennon and Carl Sagan.

Karen leaves behind a large and loving family. Her three children, Allen J. Campbell II of Johnston, Bradley John Campbell and his wife Melissa McCafferty of Providence, Heather R. Campbell and her husband Alex Malstrom of North Kingstown. She also leaves behind two sisters, Lorraine

Casey of Johnston and Cheryl Casey of Providence as well as three grandchildren, Casey May Campbell, Emmeline Robyn Campbell and Noah Behan along with many nieces and nephews.

Karen left an impact on those she met and was loved by all.

She will indeed be missed.

She will always be remembered.

“ Oh Karen where do I start when we were just 13 almost 14 we met. And 53 years almost 54 we were still besties. But you know you were more than that you were my little sister even my family said it you were the sister from another mister. I knew I was a part of your family as well. We sure had a very interesting experience in life. We seen cults, dead bodies, accidents, good times, difficult times, but we got through it. We were there for each other always never turned our backs on each other. You had my back and I had yours. We sure did your share of funny things. We both loved alot of the same things. Camp, Nickerson House, Music, Movies, and even food. We were there for each other in good times and bad. We watched our children grow up we were so proud of them. And then we became grandmother's and well that was all it took for both of us. Our happiness was completely full. I sit here writing this with tears running down my face because I miss you so dam much. I just wish I had a magic wand that I could use to bring you back and have many more laughs and memories to make with you. I miss you my baby sister and you save me a spot ok!!

“ I first met Karen on MySpace many years ago , and after a while we exchanged phone numbers and I would phone her of an evening , quite often when I was walking home from the pub here in England , sometimes I would catch her at home and sometimes at work....We had many conversations over the years , some laughs and some serious chat's , we always hoped that one day we would meet face to face over a beer or two , unfortunately that was one wish too many..... I will miss you Karen , I will miss those chat's..... sleep well sweetheart and I'll see you on the Starship Enterprise one day 🥺🥺

“ Nothing I write here could ever convey how much I loved Karen. She was my "sister" and an inspiration to me in so many ways. A kinder woman you will never find. My heart is breaking for Allen, Heather and Brad. Not only did they lose the best mother in the world, but from what I witnessed, a best friend in her as well. Karen and I are destined to be "Lost In Space" for eternity, and we will be one day.

“ Remembering those hot summer nights when a bunch of us Curtis St Ladies would get together with wine and del's lemonade. That really quenched our thirsts. Or the nights we would just sit there and watch all of our kids running around having a good time. Of course all the gossiping too! Miss you my friend.

“ Your mom was the brightest light! I always made a point of seeking her out for a hug when I came back to visit after moving to California. She made everyone feel special. I loved her laugh, but mostly her smile. It lit up a room and I picture it every time I think of her. Her family was her pride and joy. What a blessing for all of you to have known the love of such a wonderful Mom. Thanks for being such a blessing in my life, Karen, and thank you for bringing Heather to Dominion so we can continue to see your beautiful smile. I will truly miss you. XOXO!
