

Michelle D. Barata

February 19, 2023

Michelle D. (Kelleher) Barata, 64, passed away February 19, 2023.

Born in Pawtucket, she was a daughter of Evette (Jolie) Smith and the late Thomas P. Kelleher.

She was the beloved wife of Joseph Edward Barata for 43 years; devoted mother of Joseph E. Barata Jr. and his wife Alissa, Tiffany (Barata) Taylor and her husband Edward and James Barata and his wife Jenna-Lys Rubin; cherished grandmother of Sumere Rose, Zackery, Piper, Adrianna, Nova Rae, Isabella, Gabriella and James. She leaves six siblings and many nieces and nephews.

Michelle was a graduate of Attleboro High School. She had worked as an Activities Director at Epoch Senior Health. Michelle was very devoted to her family. She especially enjoyed spending time with her loving grandchildren. She was also a "Cheerleader" at any of her children sporting events. She was the mom with the mega horn, known to cheer loudly in the stands or even run along the football field encouraging her children for the win.

Michelle was a passionate, loving person who would do just about anything for her family. She will be deeply missed by all who knew her, especially her precious dog Hamlet, who was always by her side.

Funeral services will be respectfully private.

“ She was always so encouraging and loving. Her smile was so big and bright. Her energy was contagious. When I was pregnant with my son and she came to Florida for a visit she loved feeling him kick. I know she's making waves up in the kingdom. Rest easy now Auntie! Love always Tasha
