

Norma Grace D'Amico

June 4, 2025

Norma Grace D'Amico, 86, of Johnston, passed away peacefully at home in the loving presence of her close family on June 4, 2025. Norma was born in Providence, the daughter of the late Joseph and Maria Theresa (Minicucci) Tutalo.

Norma was a dedicated and proud mother and homemaker. After raising children, she worked as a CNA and also as a staff member in the office of former Rhode Island Congressman Patrick Kennedy.

Norma had a gift for making life beautiful. She loved to cook and entertain. Her home was always full of warmth, laughter, and the delicious smells of home-cooked meals. She was ever thoughtful of loved ones and her many friends. Always ready with a card, a gift, a favor, a compliment or her delicious baked goods, Norma had a tremendous generosity of spirit. Her love and kindness were evident in the way she lived her life every day and inspired others with her grace.

Norma is survived by her two sons and their wives, Robert A. D'Amico II & Renee D'Amico and D. Joseph D'Amico & Jamie Bomback, her grandchildren, Alexandra Gracie D'Amico and Dante G. D'Amico, as well as her loving siblings, Elvira Payette, Robert Tutalo, and Donna Tutalo. Special recognition to Norma's deceased brothers, John Tutalo and Joseph P. Tutalo.

Norma's Mass of Christian Burial will be held on Friday, June 13, 2025 at 10:00 a.m. at Saint Rocco Church, 927 Atwood Avenue, Johnston, RI. Burial is respectfully private.

“ To the family of Norma,

I was so deeply saddened to learn of Norma's passing.

I had the pleasure of working with Norma, at Victoria Court, many years ago. Norma was a vibrant, beautiful woman, and the tribute to her in her obituary. Says it all.

Years later, we had breakfast together, and would see her at the local stores.

May she rest in Eternal peace and it was a pleasure to know your mom on this Earth.

“ So sorry for such a great loss. Norma was a woman who lit up a room with her smile, she was as beautiful on the inside as she was on the outside. If you knew Norma then you knew how lucky you were to have her in your life. My sweet, sweet cousin, you will be missed and loved forever. Rosanne and Riccardo Ricci
