

Robert "Bob" R. St. Angelo

April 15, 2022

Robert "Bob" R. St. Angelo, 89, passed away April 15, 2022.

Born in Providence, he was the son of the late Richard and Erminia (Parrillo) St. Angelo; loving husband of Elizabeth (Boylan) St. Angelo; devoted father of Robert J. St. Angelo and his wife Jean, Peter R. St. Angelo and his wife Leida and Amy E. St. Angelo; cherished grandfather of Michael and John St. Angelo.

Bob was a Navy veteran, worked for the American Red Cross, then started his own industrial rubber company before eventually retiring from the State of Rhode Island. He enjoyed spending time with his family, swimming, putting around the yard, visiting Newport where he met the love of his life of 55 yrs. and being home with his beloved pets.

Bob's proudest accomplishments were his family and personally building their reproduction post & beam home in North Scituate, RI with his loving wife, Elizabeth.

Funeral Services and Burial in Swan Point Cemetery are respectfully private.

“ Bob was a great brother-in-law and he was always the most content man I ever knew. I know his love for his wife and children was the source of his contentment. I met Bob at Newport Beach when he and my sister were first 'noticing' each other. It was such fun and I remember when he came to our house to officially meet us all. Kentucky Fried chicken was a 'new thing' then and he brought a bucket of it with sides and lots of laughs. He was always fun to be around on holidays. I mourn his passing and feel deeply for my family's loss. He had a happy life and I hope that this brings some comfort to all.

“ Bob and I we're friends for eighty years having met as second graders at St Pius School in Providence. We shared many good times. Horse back riding at Goddard Park, a weekend at Portsmouth Abby, the horse races and so many others. Bob would visit my parents after I married and moved to California just to see they were ok. I loved him he was my oldest and dearest friend.
LOVE YOU BOB
