I had an crossing of paths with Virginia back in the late '80s in her line of work which I understand can be very difficult at times but she was wrong about her actions they devastated me for many years I will never forget what I went through but I find it in my heart to forgive, sometimes people don't understand the results of their actions. Everything happens for a reason though my prayers will always be with her family. The past is in the past and I'm glad for all the good she did in this world while she was with us.
